LISTENING AND SPEAKING FOR FORM TWO

PRONUNCIATION

STRESS

Not all syllables in a word are given equal emphasis. By the same token, not all words in a sentence are said with equal length.

The relative emphasis that may be given to certain syllables in a word, or certain words in a sentence is what we refer to as stress.

You say a syllable or a word is stressed when it is said louder or longer than the rest.

Stress is studied in two levels:

- (a) Word level; and
- (b) Sentence level.

Stress at the Word Level

A part of a certain word when said louder or longer then it is stressed.

Rules of Word Stress

1. For two-syllable nouns and adjectives, stress the first, for example

Cloudy carton table

2. For verbs with two syllables and prepositions, emphasize the second syllable, for example
3. Words with three syllables.

- (a) Those ending in -er, -ly, emphasis put on the first syllable, for example,
- (b) Stress the first, for those ending in consonants and in -y, for example,
- (c) Stress the last syllable if the word ends in -ee, -ese, -eer, -ique, -ette, for example,
- (d) Look at the ones with the suffixes below, where stress is placed on the second,

-ary: library

Cial: judicial, commercial

-cian: musician, clinician

-tal : capital, recital

Stress is important in studying the heteronyms. A pair, or group of words is referred to as heteronym when those words are spelled the same way but have different pronunciation and meaning. We have two main categories of heteronyms:

- (a) Noun- verb pairs; and
- (b) Verb -and-adjective pairs.

We stress the first syllable if noun and the second if verb.

Examples of noun-and-verb pairs are included in the table below:

Noun	Verb	Noun	Verb
Abuse		Graduate
Record		Cement
Convert		Wind
Abuse		Sin
Contest		Produce
Duplicate		Excuse
Polish		Insult
Rebel		Permit

In sentences;

- (a) Many factories produce the produce we import.
- (b) Allan became a convert after deciding to convert to christianity.

Sentence Stress

Sentence stress is accent on certain words within a sentence.

Most sentences have two basic word types:

- (a) Content words which are the key words carrying the sense or meaning- message.

(b) Structure words which just make the sentence grammatically correct. They give the sentence its structure.

Look at the sentence below:

Buy milk feeling tired.

Though the sentence is incomplete, you will probably understand the message in it. The four words are the content words. Verbs, nouns, adjectives, are content words.

You can add words to the sentence to have something like:

Will you buy me milk since I am feeling tired?

The words: will, you, me, since, I, are just meant to make the sentence correct grammatically. They can also be stressed to bring the intended meaning.

Now let's study the sentence below:

Joan doesn't think Akinyi stole my green skirt.

Each word in the sentence can be stressed to bring the meaning as illustrated in the table.

Sentence	Meaning
Joan doesn't think Akinyi stole my green skirt.	She doesn't think that, but someone else does.
Joan doesn't think Akinyi stole my green skirt.	It is not true that Joan thinks that.
Joan doesn't think Akinyi stole my green skirt.	Joan doesn't think that, she knows that.
Joan doesn't think Akinyi stole my green skirt.	Not Akinyi, but someone else. Probably Njuguna or Adhiambo.
Joan doesn't think Akinyi stole my green skirt.	Joan thinks Akinyi did something to the green skirt, may be washed it.
Joan doesn't think Akinyi stole my green skirt.	Joan thinks Akinyi stole someone else's green skirt, but not mine.
Joan doesn't think Akinyi stole my green skirt.	She thinks Akinyi stole my red skirt which is also missing.
Joan doesn't think Akinyi stole my green skirt .	Joan thinks Akinyi stole my green shirt. She mispronounced the word.

Exercise 1

1. The words that follow can be nouns or verbs depending on the stressed syllable. Use each as both the verb and noun in a single sentence.
 - (a) Cement
 - (b) Address
 - (c) Permit
 - (d) Content
2. Underline the part of the word in boldface you will stress in each of the following sentences.
 - (a) The boy has been asked to de.sert the de.sert.
 - (b) My handsome es.cortwilles.cort me to the dance.
 - (c) After updating my re.sume, I will re.sume my job search.
 - (d) They have to con.test in the annual Math con.test.
 - (e) If you con.vict me, I will remain a con.vict for 5 years.

Exercise 2

Each word in the sentences below can be stressed to bring the meaning. What will be the meaning when each word is stressed?

- (a) I love your sister's handwriting.
- (b) You came late today.

INTONATION

- It is the rise and fall of voice in speaking.
- Intonation is crucial for communication.
- In English there are basically two kinds of intonation: rising and falling.
- We can use arrows to show the intonation – whether rising or falling. ↴ represents falling intonation while ↽ represents the rising one.

Falling Intonation

- Falling intonation is when we lower our voice at the end of a sentence.
- This usually happens in:

(a) Statements, for example,

- I like ↗ bananas.
- It is nice working with ↗ you.
- She travelled to ↗ Eldoret.

(b) W/H Questions

- What is your ↗ name?
- Where do you ↗ live?
- How old are ↗ you?
- Who is this young ↗ man?

(c) Commands

- Get out ↗ now.
- Give me the ↗ money.
- Close your ↗ books.

(d) Exclamatory sentences e.g.

- What a wonderful ↗ present!
- How ↗ nice of you

Rising intonation

➤ When we lower our voice.

➤ Used in:

- General Questions e.g.

Do you visit them ↗ often?

Have you seen ↗ her?

Are you ready to ↗ start?

Could you give me a ↗ pen, please?

- Alternative questions e.g.

Do you want ↗coffee or ↘tea?

Does he speak ↗Kiswahili or ↘English?

- Before tag questions e.g.

This is a beautiful ↘place, ↗isn't it?

She knows ↘him, ↗doesn't she?

- Enumerating e.g.

↗One, ↗two, ↗three, ↗four, ↘five.

She bought ↗bread, ↗cheese, ↗oranges, and ↘apples.

Exercise

Using an arrow, determine whether rising or falling intonation is used in the sentences.

- (a) This music sounds good.
- (b) I love watching horror movies.
- (c) My sister's name is Amina.
- (d) Blue is my favourite colour.
- (e) Is that tv good?
- (f) Do you like that movie?
- (g) Are you hungry?
- (h) Get me my shoes.
- (i) Study your lessons now.
- (j) Are you insane?
- (k) How many more hours before you are done with your work?
- (l) Which novel is the best for you?
- (m) He is a little bit nervous, isn't he?
- (n) You should listen to your parents' advice.
- (o) Did you finish your homework?
- (p) Water is good for the body.
- (q) This is good!

(r) What a crazy show.

PUNS/WORD PLAY

- A pun is a form of word play that suggests several meanings, by either exploiting the multiple meanings of a word, or substituting a word for another similar sounding word, the result of which is humorous.
- A pun is also known as paronomasia.
- There are two main types of puns:

(a) Homophonic puns

This is where a word is substituted for another similar sounding word or word pronounced almost in the same way . For example,

Fishermen are reel men.

Explanation: There is a twist on the word 'reel' which is originally supposed to be spelt 'real'.

Can you now explain the pun in the following homophonic puns?

1. What do sea monsters eat for lunch? Fish and ships.
2. I am on a seafood diet. Every time I see food, I eat it.
3. Did you about the Italian chef with terminal illness? He past away.
4. Beauty is in the eye of the beer holder.
5. What tea do hockey players drink? Penalttea

6. What do ghosts serve for dessert? I scream.
7. What did the tree say to the autumn? Leaf me alone.
8. What did the boy cat say to the girl cat on Valentine's day? You're purr-fect for me.
9. What day does an Easter egg hate the most? Fry-days.
10. Why did the scientist install a knocker on his door? He wanted to win the No-bell prize!

(b) Homographic puns

Homographic pun is formed by using a word that has multiple meanings. You might not tell what exactly what the speaker means.

For example;

Rose is the flower of my life.

Explanation: The word 'Rose' is a female name. It could be the person the speaker loves.

It is also a type of flower.

The other examples are;

1. My math teacher called me average. How mean!
2. What do prisoners use to call each other? Cell phones.
3. No matter how much you push the envelope, it'll remain stationery.
4. Have you ever tried to eat a clock? It's very time consuming.
5. A waist is a terrible thing to mind.
6. I am reading a book about anti-gravity. It's impossible to put down.
7. What part of football ground is never the same? The changing room.
8. I want to tell you a chemistry joke but I know I will not get a reaction.
9. Why did the bee get married? Because he found his honey.
10. Did you hear about the guy who got hit in the head with a can of soda? He was lucky it was a soft drink.

Features of Puns

Puns are characterized by;

1. They are short.

2. They are humorous.

Functions of Puns

They serve functions such as:

- Teaching pronunciation. For example, homophones.
- Enhancing creativity. One has to think in order to form their puns.
- Entertaining. When said one wonders what the speaker intends, the audience will laugh.

Exercise

Explain the pun in:

- I used to be a banker but I lost interest.
- A bicycle can't stand on its own because it is two-tired.
- I don't trust these stairs because they are always up to something.
- Santa's helpers are known as subordinate clauses.
- The man who drank battery acid got charged.

TONGUE TWISTERS

- A phrase or a sentence which is hard to speak fast because of alliteration or a sequence of nearly similar sounds is the tongue twister.
- It is worth noting that there is usually the use of mnemonic feature (sound devices or sound patterns) in the tongue twisters.
- Let us read the following tongue twisters fast.
 - She sells sea shells on the sea shore.

- Any noise annoys an oyster but noisy noise annoys an oyster more.
- Kindly kittens knitting mittens keep kazooing in the king's kitchen.

Sound Patterns in Tongue Twisters

1. Read the tongue twister below fast.

She saw a fish on the seashore and I am sure the fish she saw on the sea shore was a saw-fish.

In the words: she, shore and sure, there is the repetition of the consonant sound /ʃ/ at the beginning of the words. This is alliteration.

Alliteration is the repetition of the initial consonant sound in the nearby words.

Can you identify any other instance of alliteration in the above tongue twister?

2. Read this other tongue twister and take note of the highlighted letters.

A skunk sat on a stump and thank the stump stunk, but the stump thank the skunk stunk.

The sound pattern here is consonance.

Consonance is the repetition of the inner consonant sound in the nearby words. An inner sound is that which comes after the first.

There is another instance of consonance. Can you illustrate it?

3. Repetition

- In most tongue twisters, there is repetition of words or phrases. In (1) above, the words 'saw', 'fish', etc. have been repeated.
- Now pick out the words and phrases repeated in these tongue twisters.
 - (a) If you tell Tom to tell a tongue twister, his tongue will be twisted as tongue twister twists tongues.
 - (b) The sixth sick Sheik's sixth sheep's sick.

4. Assonance

Let's look at:

How much wood could a wood chopper chop, if a wood chopper could chop wood?

There is repetition of the /u:/ in the words; wood, could. This is assonance.

Assonance is the repetition of vowel sounds in the nearby words.

Features of Tongue Twisters

A tongue twister will have the following features:

- (1) it is short and brief.

(2) It is alliterative.

Functions of Tongue Twisters

1. They entertain. When one confuses the pronunciation of sounds, the audience will laugh.
2. They teach pronunciation. We can, for example, learn the pronunciation of the sounds /f/ and /v/, /s/ and /ʃ/ etc.
3. Enhance creativity.

Exercise 1

With illustrations, identify the sound patterns in:

- (a) It's not the cough that carries you off, it's the coffin they carry you off in!
- (b) If two witches were watching two watches, which witch would watch which watch?
- (c) If a black bug bleeds black blood, what colour of blood does a blue bug bleed?
- (d) I wish to wash my Irish watch.

Exercise 2

Read the item below and then answer questions after it:

We surely shall see the sun shine soon.

- (a) Identify the genre.
- (b) Which two sounds has the item been used to teach?

RHYME

- Rhyming words are the words that sound the same at the ends. Examples of rhyming words are:
- When a poem has rhyming words at the end of its lines, these are called 'end rhymes'. Look at these two lines:

That keep me locked up tight
All of the things that make me feel not right
The words 'tight' and 'right' rhyme.

- By contrast, internal rhyme/ middle rhyme, is a rhyme that occurs either when:
 - Two or more rhyming words occur within the same line;
 - Two or more rhyming words appear in the middle of two separate lines, or sometimes more;
 - A word at the end of a line rhymes with one or more in the middle of the following line.
- Read the poem below and then try to identify the instances of rhyme in it.

Mystic Travel

Mystic travel time
Too endless islands in your mind

Tiny lights majestic and free

Open the skies soar me

Travel your minds unseen road

To mysterious lands secrets untold

The mountains valley lay quiet

As a shower carries away

The warmth of an evening breeze

Built from within a day

Heat dances shadows on the lakes fiery bay

Constructing temples where gods could play

Today is the finest piece

For tranquil emptiness

Suggestions of fluent sensations

Congregated illusions of masturbations

Sympathize the richness of the truth

Energize the expected thoughts of youth

Reading the poem aloud, we can point out several rhyming couplets. They include among others:

- Free and me
- Away and day
- Sensations and masturbations
- Truth and youth

Internal Rhyme in Separate Lines

Here are two examples of pairs of lines with middle rhymes in separate lines.

I see a red boat that has a red flag
Just like my red coat and my little red pail

The words 'boat' and 'coat' rhyme.

I'd like to jump into the ocean

But don't dump me instead.

The rhyming words are 'jump' and 'dump'.

Now read the stanza below from the poem 'The Raven' and identify all the pairs of rhyming words.

Once upon a midnight dreary, while I
Pondered, weak and weary
Over many a quaint and curious volume of Forgotten lore.
While I nodded, nearly napping, suddenly
There came a tapping
As if someone gently rapping, rapping at
My chamber door
"Tis some visitor," I muttered, "tapping at
My chamber door;
Only this, and nothing more."

Rhyme Scheme

- This is a way of describing the pattern of the end rhymes in a poem.
- The points below will help you in reading and notating the rhyme scheme.
 - Each new sound at the end of a line is given a letter.
 - The letters start with 'a', then 'b', and so on.
 - If an end sound repeats the end sound of an earlier line, it gets the same letter as that earlier line.
- Here are four different stanzas, each with a different rhyme scheme, that can help you understand rhyme scheme.

1. From Voices in My Head, by Ivor Davies

Suddenly a voice appears

I hear it in my mind

Within my head not in my ears

Not of the normal kind

The rhyme scheme is: abab

It is regular rhyme scheme as it is easy to predict when the sound will next appear.

2. From Falling Raindrops' Prayer for the Broken.

I pray for the crying
For the hurt and the dying
For those burned and screaming
For each helper crying

The rhyme scheme is aaaaa

This too is regular.

3. From the poem by Robert Broadbent.

Early or late,
Patient ...can't wait
Lost or your found
The world goes around

The rhyme scheme here is aabb. This is a Regular scheme

4. From Happy Holidays by John Lumber.

Christmas Eve
Oh how supreme!
When Santa comes
Every night!
Then, next day,
I just can't wait,
When the tree is all alright.

The rhyme scheme is abcdedd. This is irregular.

The irregular rhyme scheme occurs when you can't predict when the end sound will be repeated.

Why Rhyme?

- (a) Rhyme creates rhythm in the poem.
- (b) It also makes reading or reciting the poem interesting.
- (c) The poem is also made easy to memorize.

Exercise 1

Describe the rhyme scheme of the poem below by Robert Broadbent.

One Day at a Time

Happy or sad
Good days or bad
Cherry or down
The world goes around

Give up or try
Out going or shy
A smile or a frown,
The world goes around

Early or late,
Patient ...can't wait,
Lost or your found,
The world goes around

Angry, serene
Out spoken, unspent
Tense or unwound,
The world goes around

All future days,
Are hidden in haze,
Don't worry, just learn,
To let the world turn.

Exercise 2

The incomplete poem below has the rhyme scheme: aabccbddebfe. Complete it with appropriate words.

Death did not take Paris silently
Rumbled the grave screaming _____
No child slept easy that _____
Twenty minutes of terror waking
Wee ones from sleep in cold sweats _____
Stealing their peaceful birthright.

Indelible imprints of _____
Ingrained in young psyches forever;
Post traumatic stress syndrome.
They may age, but they will not _____
The bloody death that evil begets
Shadows lurk in dreaming's gloam.

❖ Look at the panegyric in the next page.

Ogun kills suddenly in the house and suddenly in the field.

Ogun kills the child with the iron with which it plays.

Ogun kills in silence.

Ogun kills the thief and the owner of the stolen goods.

Ogun kills the owner of the slave—and the slave runs away.

Ogun kills the owner of thirty 'iwofa' [pawns]—and his money, wealth and children disappear.

Ogun kills the owner of the house and paints the hearth with his blood.

Ogun is the death who pursues a child until it runs into the bush.

Ogun is the needle that pricks at both ends.

Ogun has water but he washes in blood.

ETIQUETTE

TELEPHONE ETIQUETTE

Telephone etiquette are the rules that demonstrate the proper and polite way to use your phone/telephone.

It starts from how you prepare for phone calls to when you end the call.

Preparation for Phone Call

The following should be done before placing a call:

- Ensure you have enough time. It will not auger well to suddenly end the conversation because of insufficient airtime.
- Go to a place where there is silence. Too much noise will distract your attention.
- Think through exactly what you want to say. Write it down if possible so you don't forget what to say or ask and look as though you didn't have anything to say.

Tips to Display When Making a Call

Whether at work, at home, or on your mobile phone, remember to display the tips below at all times:

1. Identify yourself at the beginning of the call.
2. Speak clearly and slowly especially when leaving the message.
3. Speak with a low tone of voice. Be sure to know how loud you may be.
4. Always end with a pleasantry, for example, 'Have a nice day.'
5. Let the caller hang up first.
6. Stay away from others while talking on the phone. They don't need to hear your private conversation.

What to Avoid

1. Avoid being distracted by other activities while speaking. Some of these activities include:

- Rustling papers
- Chewing
- Driving

- Speaking with someone
 - Shopping
 - Working on the computer
2. Avoid allowing interruptions to occur during the conversation.
 3. Do not engage in an argument with the caller.
 4. Talking too loudly.

Not at these Places

The following are places you should not make a call. You should even have your cell phone in a silent mode or switch it off altogether.

- Bathrooms
- Hospitals
- Waiting rooms
- Meetings
- Museums
- Places of worship
- Lectures
- Live performances
- Funerals
- Weddings

Telephone Conversations

Here we shall focus on majorly business telephone conversations. It should be noted that there are patterns that are followed; but not all will follow this rigid pattern. The six patterns include:

1. The phone is answered by someone who asks if he/she can help.
2. The caller makes a request either to be connected to someone or for information.

3. The caller is connected, given information or told that that person is not present at the moment.
4. The caller is asked to leave a message if the person who is requested for is not in.
5. The caller leaves a message or asks other questions.
6. The phone call finishes.

Exercise 1

Read the telephone conversation below and then answer questions that follow.

Pauline: (a form two student, Wajanja School) ring ring... ring ring ...

Secretary: Hello, Wajanja School, this is Ms Esther speaking. How may I be of help to you?

Pauline: Yes, this is Pauline Karanja a form two student calling. May I speak to the principal, please?

Secretary: I am afraid MsKaluma is not in the office at the moment. Would you like to leave a message?

Pauline: I would really want, thanks. When she comes back, tell her I wanted to ask for one day permission. My brother is sick and I would like to request her that I report one day after the opening day. It is I who will be left with my siblings as the brother goes to the hospital. That is all.

Secretary: Sorry for that, I wish him quick recovery. I would give her the message as soon.

Pauline:I would be grateful madam. Thanks again.

Pauline:Welcome Pauline. Just ensure you report as stated here.

Secretary: Ok have a nice day madam.

Pauline:You too have a perfect day. Goodbye

(a) With examples, outline the patterns of telephone conversation in above.

(b) Identify evidences of telephone etiquette tips displayed by Pauline in the conversation above.

Exercise 2

Your sibling is very sick. You are planning to make a doctor a phone call to come to your home to provide medication.

(a) State any three preparations you would put in place before making this important call.

(b) Give four bad habits you would avoid when making this call.

Exercise 3

Joan has just called the parent to ask them to pay the school fee. Unfortunately, the parent is not happy with the way she has made the call. Identify any four telephone etiquette tips she could have failed to display.

MASTERY OF CONTENT

INTERVIEWS

Have you ever attended the formal meetings where you are asked questions and are expected to respond to them? More than once you will be invited to attend interviews. You can also invite someone to interview. For this reason, you should some interview tips.

The two participants in an interview are the interviewer (at times a panel of interviewers), and the interviewee.

Tips for the Interviewees

Job Interview Preparations

If you really want to be considered for a particular job following an interview, you have to adequately prepare to succeed. The following are the preparations the interviewee would put in place before the interview:

- (a) Contact your referees to alert them that you will be interviewed and they are likely to receive a call.
- (b) Prepare your documents. Make sure they are neat and well arranged.
- (c) Know the location where you are having the interview. It will help you know how long it will take you to reach there.
- (d) Do some research about the organization.

- (e) Prepare what to wear and how to groom.
- (f) Anticipate potential questions and prepare answers correctly.
- (g) Arrive early enough for the interview.
- (h) Prepare questions to ask the interviewer at the end. It will show how much you are interested in working there.

During the Interview;

- (a) Greet the interviewer.
- (b) Knock on the door and wait for response before you enter. Shut the door behind you quietly.
- (c) Wait until you are offered the seat before sitting.
- (d) Sit or stand upright and look alert throughout.
- (e) Make good eye contact with the interviewer to show you are honest.
- (f) Explain your answers whenever possible and avoid answering questions with yes/no as answers.
- (g) Answer questions honestly. Don't ever lie!

Common Blunders you MUST Avoid

Avoid falling foul of the following:

1. Turning up late for the interview.
2. Dressing and grooming inappropriately.
3. Giving simple yes/no as answers.
4. Speaking negatively about your previous employer.
5. Sitting before invited.
6. Discussing time-off or money.

As an Interviewer

Before the Interview:

1. Write down questions to ask.
2. Call the prospective employee's referees.
3. Prepare the place for the interview.
4. Alert the interviewee about the interview. Mention the time and place.

5. Arrive early for the interview.

During the Interview:

1. Allow them enough time to respond to questions.
2. Encourage them to speak by, for example, nodding your head when they answer questions.
3. Speak and ask questions politely. Be friendly but formal as much as you can.
4. Make eye contact with the interviewee to show you are listening to them.

Exercise 1

- (a) Write down any three questions you would ask him/her.
- (b) Other than writing down questions to ask, how else would you prepare for this day?
- (c) State four things you would do as you interview him.

Exercise 2

Read the conversation below and then answer questions after it.

Ms Naomi: Welcome to our Doctor's office.

Mr. Josh: Nice to be here.

Ms Naomi: I see from your resume that you are a cardiologist with 10 years of practice.

Mr. Josh: That's right.

Ms Naomi: This interview is just to get to know you a little and then there are follow up interviews. So what do you do in your free time?

Mr. Josh: I like golfing and swimming. I also like to read newspapers.

Ms Naomi: Why did you want to be a doctor?

Mr. Josh: Actually I love helping people get well. I think cardiology has made great strides recently and I would like to share my findings with others.

Ms Naomi: Have you written in any scientific journals so far?

Mr. Josh: Not yet. But hopefully soon.

Ms Naomi: OK, we'd like to learn more about you. Let's go for lunch with our colleagues, if that's OK.

Mr. Josh: That's fine, I am free.

- (a) What two things qualify Ms Naomi as a good interviewer?
- (b) Identify two evidences of interview tips displayed by Mr. Josh.

READING FOR FORM TWO

SCANNING AND SKIMMING..

Reading

- There is a lot of reading you will engage in. To cope with it all, you'll need to develop some reading techniques.
- Here we'll talk about scanning, skimming and reading for study.

Scanning

- When you scan a text, you search for one particular item (or set of items) while ignoring everything else.
- Suppose, for example, that you're writing an assignment on Effects of Drug Abuse, and you're looking through a copy of Drug Addict's Story, to see if there are any relevant material. You scan the list of contents to find the part written Drug Abuse, then scan the materials listed there.

Skimming

- Whereas you scan for specific information, you skim a text to get a general idea of what information it contains.
- In this case you might pick up the copy of Drug Addict's Story in a library, skim through the contents, turn to a couple of articles that interest you and skim through the paragraphs to get a sense of what they are saying.
- You wouldn't read every word, or even look at every paragraph.
- You just read enough to find out whether the book/newspaper is worth reading/buying.

COMPREHENSION SKILLS

SUMMARY AND NOTE- MAKING.

SUMMARY

- An excellent summary is a summary written to show that you have read and understood something.
- You will get assignments that ask you to read a certain material and summarize it.

How to produce a summary:

1. Read the material to be summarized and be sure you understand it.
2. Outline the major points.
3. Write a first draft of the summary without looking at the material.

4. Always use paraphrase when writing a summary.
5. Target your first draft for approximately 1/4 the length of the original.
6. Never put any of your own ideas, opinions, or interpretations into the summary. This means you have to be very careful of your word choice.
7. Write in prose – not point form.

NOTE MAKING

How to Make Notes

The following tips will come in handy when making notes:

1. Read the material carefully and thoroughly.
2. Underline the key sentences as you read. This will help in forming the title.
3. Make a rough note of the main points in a logical sequence.
4. Write the final notes.

You should have in mind that a note:

1. Should be short and to the point.
2. Contain all the important and relevant information.
3. Should have information systematically divided and subdivided.
4. Should have a short title. Avoid long sentences as titles.
5. Must be written in points only.

(b) COMPOUND NOUNS

- A compound noun is a noun that is made with two or more words.
- There are three forms for compound nouns:
 - Open or space – space between words, for example, man servant
 - Hyphenated – hyphen between words, for example, sister-in-law
 - Closed or solid – neither space nor hyphen between words, for example, witchcraft

Compound Nouns Combinations

The following are the compound noun combinations with examples:

Noun + Noun

Football

Eyelid

Adjective + Noun

Greenhouse

Hotdogs

Verb + Noun

Washing machine

Dinning table

Noun + Verb

Haircut

Rainfall

Verb + Preposition

Check-out

Noun + Prepositional Phrase

Master of ceremonies

Sister-in-law

Preposition + Noun

Underdog

Noun + Adjective

Spoonful

Plural Forms of Compound Nouns

- In general, we make the plural of the compound noun by adding –s to the most significant one. Look at the table

Singular	Plural
Head teacher	Head teachers
Passerby	Passersby
Mother-in-law	Mothers-in-law
Wallpaper	Wallpapers

- There are variations with those ending in –ful, like spoonful. You can either say spoonsful (new style), spoonfuls (old style). It is advisable you remain consistent in your choice.

Compound Noun	New Style	Old Style
Spoonful	Spoonsful	Spoonfuls
Bucketful	Bucketsful	Bucketfuls

Cupful	Cupsful	Cupfuls
Truckful	Trucksful	Truckfuls
Mouthful	Mouthsful	Mouthfuls

- There are those nouns that have no obvious significant word. They will require you to consult the dictionary to find their plural. For example,
 - Go-betweens
 - Good-for-nothings
 - Grown-ups
 - Higher-ups etc
- For compound nouns made of noun +noun, the first noun is taken as an adjective, and does not take an -s. examples
 - Apple trees
 - Toothbrushes
 - Bus stops , etc

Exercise

Using compound nouns, shorten the underlined phrases in the sentences below.

- (a) She is cleaning a room for stores.
- (b) He bought a new ruler for measuring up to 30 cm.

- (i) The mechanic has carried two metal boxes for the tools.
- (j) Are you the wife of my son?

(c) POSSESSIVES

- A noun can be a possessive when it can also have "of a" or "of the" preceding it. For example,

The watch of a girl – a girl's watch.

The milk of the cow – the cow's milk.

Singular Possessives

- A singular noun is usually made possessive by adding 's to the end of the noun. For example,

The man's wheelbarrow is lost.

- Most proper nouns are made possessives by adding 's to the end of the word, for example,

Khalwale's shirt is dark.

- A singular noun that ends in s can be made possessive by either adding 's to the end of the word, or by only adding ' to the end of the word. Example,

Matthews' job is good.

Matthews's job is good.

Plural Possessives

- A plural noun that ends in s can be made possessive by only adding ' to the end of the word. Example

All the technicians' fingers were cut.

- A plural noun that ends in other letters apart from s can be made possessive by adding 's to the word. For example,

The women's team will play next week.

Possessive Pronouns

- Most possessive pronouns do not use an apostrophe to indicate possession. Examples

- That is its tail.
- His is the new one.
- Ours has been received.

- Some possessive pronouns use 's, for example,

Grade "A" is everyone's dream.

This is someone's wrist watch.

Note: "it's" is a contraction for "it is" and not a possessive.

- Look at the list of modal auxiliary verbs follows:

- Can
- Could
- May
- Might
- Must
- Need
- Ought to
- Shall
- Should
- Will
- Would

Functions of Auxiliary Verbs

Auxiliary verbs, also known as helping verbs, add functional or grammatical meaning to the clauses in which they appear. They perform their functions in several different ways:

- They express tense. For example past, present and future.
- Make sentences grammatically correct.
- They quantify verbs.
- Sentences are emphasized through them.

Auxiliary verbs almost always appear together with a main verb, and though there are only a few of them, they are among the most frequently occurring verbs in the English language.

(b) PERFECTIVE ASPECT

- Also called complete aspect, is the aspect of a verb which expresses a completed action.
- The completed action can be:
 - ✓ In the past, for example,
 - ❖ We had met.
 - ❖ She had left.
 - ❖ They had drunk.
 - ✓ In the present, examples,
 - ❖ I have seen it.
 - ❖ He has taken his bag.
 - ❖ It has drunk its milk.
 - ✓ In future, for example,
 - ❖ She will have left.
 - ❖ They will have gone.
 - ❖ Helsy will have completed.

How to Form the Perfective Aspect

- Formed by using the auxiliary verb have and the past participle form of the main verb.

Past Perfect Tense

- Expresses action completed in the past.
- There could be one action completed before the one started.

Examples in Sentences

1. When he arrived, I had already eaten.
2. John had finished high school by the time I joined form one.
3. Gregory had seen them.

The Present Perfect Tense

- Expresses the action completed in the present, before the next one starts.
- Examples of sentences in this tense are:
 - ❖ He has played.
 - ❖ We have finished.
 - ❖ I have jumped already.

The Future Perfect Tense

- The future perfect tense refers to a completed action in the future. When we use this tense we are projecting ourselves forward into the future and looking back at an action that will be completed some time later than now. It is most often used with a time expression.
- The future perfect is composed of two elements
the simple future of the verb "to have" (will have) + the past participle of the main verb

Affirmative	Negative	Interrogative	Negative Interrogative
I will have jumped	I won't have jumped	Will I have jumped?	Won't I have jumped?
You will have jumped	You won't have jumped	Will you have jumped?	Won't you have jumped?
He will have jumped	He won't have arrived	Will he have arrived?	Won't he have arrived?
We will have jumped	We won't have jumped	Will we have jumped?	Won't we have jumped?
They will have jumped	They won't have jumped	Will they have jumped?	Won't they have jumped?

Function

Examples

- I will have been here for six months on June 23rd.
- By the time you read this I will have left.
- You will have finished your report by this time next week.
- Won't they have arrived by 5:00?
- Will you have eaten when I pick you up?

(c) PROGRESSIVE ASPECT

- It expresses an on-going action.
- The action could have been in the past, present, or will happen in future.
- Verbs in this aspect are recognizable by the present participle (-ing)

Progressive Aspect with Past Tense

We use the pattern:

Was or were + present Participle,

Examples

- ❖ We were travelling.
- ❖ She was writing.

Progressive Aspect with Present Tense

The pattern below is used

Is or are +present participle, for example

- ❖ She is writing.
- ❖ They are dancing.

Progressive Aspect With Future Time

To form this, we use the pattern:

Will be + present participle

- ❖ He will be cycling.
- ❖ They will be crying.

(d)FUTURE TIME

- There are a number of different ways of referring to the future in English. It is important to remember that we are expressing more than simply the time of the action or event.
- Future always refers to a time 'later than now', but it may also express our attitude to the future event.

All of the following ideas can be expressed using different tenses:

- (i) Simple prediction: There will be strike next week.
- (ii) Arrangements: She is running to Kilgoris tomorrow.
- (iii) Plans and intentions: They are going to fly to London in December.
- (iv) Prediction based on present evidence: I think it's going to rain!
- (v) Willingness: She will pay your fee.
- (vi) An action in progress in the future: This time next year he will be in form three.
- (vii) An event or action that is a routine: You will be seeing Perpetua in the church tomorrow.
- (viii) Obligation: You are to drive directly to my house.
- (ix) An action or event that will take place immediately or very soon: The train is about to leave.
- (x) Projecting ourselves into the future and looking back at a completed action: A month from now he will have finished all his exams.

The four future verb tenses in English are:

- Simple future tense
- Future continuous tense
- Future perfect tense
- Future perfect continuous tense

Simple future tense

The simple future refers to a time later than now, and expresses facts or certainty.

Examples in Sentences

- (i) I will see you later.
- (ii) She will do it. Do not worry.

How to Form the simple future

- The simple future tense is composed of two parts: will / shall + the infinitive without to.
- study the table below:

Affirmative	Negative	Interrogative
I will visit	I won't visit. I will not visit.	Will I visit? Won't I visit?
She will visit.	She won't visit. She will not visit.	Will she visit? Won't she visit?
They will visit.	They won't visit. They will not visit.	Will they visit? Won't they visit?

Contractions in simple Future

I will = I'll
 We will = we'll
 You will = you'll
 He will = he'll
 She will = she'll
 They will = they'll
 Will not = won't

Future continuous

- The future continuous refers to an unfinished action or event that will be in progress at a time later than now.
- The future continuous is made up of:
the simple future of the verb 'to be' + the present participle (base+ing)
- The future continuous is used for quite a few different purposes. These functions include:
 - (i) To project oneself into the future. Example

This time next month she will be writing her final paper.
 - (ii) To predict or guess about future events. Example

You'll be missing these meals once leave high school.

(iii) To ask politely for information about the future. Example

Will you be attending my weeding this weekend?

(iv) To refer to continuous events expected to happen in the future. Examples

I'll be tracing him next month.

Future perfect

- The future perfect tense refers to a completed action in the future.
- In using this tense, we project ourselves forward into the future and looking back at an action that will be completed sometime later than now.
- It is most often used with a time expression.
- To form it, include:
the simple future of the verb "to have" (will have) + the past participle of the main verb

Examples in Sentences

- (i) Won't you be here for my party for three hours next week?
- (ii) You will have evacuated the building by the time the constructors arrive.
- (iii) She will have left by the time we arrive.

Future Perfect Continuous

- This tense is used to project oneself forward in time and to look back.
 - It refers to events or actions in a time between now and some future time are unfinished.
 - It is most often used with a time expression.
 - The future perfect continuous is composed of two elements
the future perfect of the verb "to be" (will have been) + the present participle of the main verb (base + ing)

PHRASES

(a) CONSTITUENTS OF VERB PHRASES

- A sentence must have a verb.
- A verb phrase has a verb as the head word.
- A verb phrase consists of a main verb plus auxiliary verb(s).
- Look at the sentence below.

These girls are annoying.

Are annoying is the verb phrase.

Are is an auxiliary verb.

Annoying is the main verb.

- The main verb normally comes at the end of the phrase.

More Examples In Sentences

1. The prices have fallen.
2. They could be running from me.
3. They have been asking this question over and over again.
4. She should have been writing the book.

(b) CONSTITUENTS OF ADVERB PHRASES

- An adverb phrase is a word group with an adverb as the main word.
- An adverb phrase can modify a verb, an adjective, or an adverb.

Constituents of Adverb Phrases

An adverb phrase can consist of:

- ❖ An adverb
- ❖ Pre modifier, which can be an adverb, adjective, or a preposition.
- ❖ Post modifier

Adverb Phrases Examples

- i. Quite slowly

Quite is the pre modifier, while slowly is the adverb

- ii. On Friday night

Pre modifier is the preposition on . night is the post modifier

Examples in Sentences

- i. The project was done very slowly.

- ii. We talked all day long.

CLAUSES

(a) INDEPENDENT AND SUBORDINATE CLAUSES

Independent Clauses

- A clause is independent when it meets the following conditions:
 - ❖ It has a subject
 - ❖ It has an action—what the subject is doing.
 - ❖ It expresses a complete thought.

Examples

1. We left home.
2. He lives in Nairobi.

Subordinate Clauses

- A subordinate clause (or dependent) clause cannot stand alone as a sentence since it does not express a complete thought.
- A dependent clause begins with a subordinate conjunction or relative pronouns or a relative adverb.
- It leaves one wondering “what happened?”

Examples

1. Where she went
2. Before Khamisi arrived.
3. After she abused me.

(b)COMPOUND SENTENCES

- A compound sentence has two independent clauses.
- An independent clause, as earlier discussed, has a subject and a verb and expresses a complete thought.
- The two independent clauses forming a compound sentence are joined using a coordinating conjunction. At times, a semi colon is used.
- The coordinating conjunctions are:
 - ❖ For
 - ❖ And
 - ❖ Nor
 - ❖ But
 - ❖ Or
 - ❖ Yet
 - ❖ So

These conjunctions can be best remembered by a handy mnemonic: FANBOYS.

- Here is an example of a compound sentence:

He works in Wajir, but he stays in Isiolo.

- ❖ The sentence has two independent clauses: he works in Wajir and he stays in Isiolo.

- ❖ But is the coordination conjunction joining the two clauses.

Other Examples

1. Rose wanted to buy a dress, but she didn't have enough money.
2. They did not go to church, yet their parent advised them to.
3. Do you want to go to Rongo or Homabay?

(c) COMPLEX SENTENCES

- A complex sentence is made up of an independent clause and at least one dependent clauses.
- A dependent clause lacks one of the elements that would make it a complete sentence.
- The clauses making up the complex sentence are combined using a subordinating conjunction.
- Here is an example for you:

Mobile phones have helped a lot since they came to the market.

- ❖ The independent clause mobile phones have helped a lot is joined to the dependent clause since they came to the market.

More Examples in Sentences

1. Although deer eat my crops, they are cute.
2. Before you leave, give me your address.
3. While I prefer a permanent house, my wife prefers a semi permanent one.

(d)ACTIVE AND PASSIVE VOICE

- A sentence can either have a verb in active form or passive form.

Active Voice

- In a sentence with an active verb, the subject performs the action denoted by the verb.
- Here is a sentence where the subject is performing the verb's action.

James is writing the notes.

- ❖ James is the subject doing the action "writing".
- ❖ Since the subject James does the action, the sentence is said to be in the active voice.

More Examples

1. Richard locked the door.
2. Akoth painted the room.
3. He is buying the phone.

Passive Voice

- A normal order of many active sentences can be changed, such that the subject is no longer active.
- In the case above, the subject is being acted upon by the verb.
- Here is an example for you:

The notes were written by James.

- ❖ The subject is the notes.
- ❖ it is passive as it is acted upon by the verb.
- ❖ Since the subject is being acted upon, the sentence is said to be in a passive voice.

More Examples

1. The door was locked.
2. The room was painted by Akoth.
3. The phone is being bought by him.

Changing a Sentence from Active Voice to Passive Voice

Follow the steps below in order to change the sentence from active to passive voice:

- ✓ Move the active sentence's direct object in the subject's slot.
- ✓ Place the active sentence's subject into a phrase beginning with the preposition "by".
- ✓ Add a form of the auxiliary verb "be" to the main verb and change the main verb's form.

Exercise

Change the sentences below to passive voice.

1. Juliet changed the flat tire.

2. Gregory painted the entire house.
3. Who taught you Physics?
4. No one answered my call.
5. Who stole my bag?
6. The hunter killed the antelope.
7. They will send her a success card.
8. The terrible news shocked everyone.

BUILDING SENTENCES AND PARAGRAPHING

DEVICES OF DEVELOPING PARAGRAPHS

1) Giving Reasons

- Giving reasons is one way to illustrate or develop paragraphs.
- Many topic sentences give the writers' personal opinion. Suppose, for example, that you write a paragraph with the topic sentence Living in the village is more comfortable than in towns.
- To make others accept your opinion, you have to explain why you think that is the case.

Reasons answer the question why? Why do you think life in villages is more comfortable? You could have reasons as follow:

Reason: Food is fresh from the garden.

Reason: There is no rent and to pay.

Reason: The challenge of traffic jam does not exist in the villages.

- Can you write a paragraph using the reasons and topic sentence above?
- Reasons are not just stated; they are supported by details. Some details may be facts, some opinions..

2) Comparing and Contrasting

- Some writing topics will ask you to consider the relationship between two things, for example, the houses in your village and those in the town you currently reside.
- Those kind of topics may allow you to organize your paragraph either around the similarities between these two subtopics or around the differences between them.

Sample Paragraph

Comparison Paragraphs Organized by Similar Points

Consider the following paragraph:

The houses in my village and the houses in the town I currently reside have several things in common. First, both are small and have very few people staying in them. For example in the houses in the village, between 5-10 people stay in such houses. Similarly, in the houses in my present residential area, Faruku, a household has about eight people. A second way in which the two are similar

Comparison Conjunctions

- In the comparison paragraphs there are various conjunctions that contribute to paragraph coherence.
- Here is a list of comparison conjunctions you can use:

Short Conjunctions	Longer Expressions
Similarly, Likewise, ...the same... ...the same as... ...also... ..., too. both	In the same way, X is similar to Y in that (they)... X and Y are similar in that (they)... Like X, Y [verb]... In like manner, One way in which X is similar to Y is (that)... Another way in which X is similar to Y is (that)...

Contrast Conjunctions

Here are some contrast conjunctions that you can use:

Short Conjunctions	Subordinating Conjunctions
However,

In contrast, By contrast, ..., but yet	On the other hand, even though + [sentence] although + [sentence] whereas + [sentence] unlike + [sentence] while + [sentence] nevertheless,
--	---

3) Using Idiomatic Expressions

- Read the paragraph below. The words in boldface are the idiomatic expressions.

When I entered university, I lived in a small town near Ngunjiri. That was the first time I lived alone. I felt it was a feather in my cap. I had nothing but a small bicycle. But I felt happy every day. I wasn't afraid to lose my shirt because I always lived on a shoestring. I didn't become hot under the collar because everyone helped me kindly. I found a part-time job in supermarket. The owner was a bit of a stuffed shirt. So I tried to keep his shirt on and to handle our customers with kid gloves. The experience taught me a sense of responsibility.

4) Using Facts/Statistics

- Another way to develop a paragraph is to include Include Facts and Statistics.
- Offer precise data from your own knowledge, or from authoritative sources, possibly in numerical form.
- Summarize the results, or quote your sources.
- Facts and statistics are the kinds of evidence many readers consider convincing proof of generalizations and opinions.
- Facts and statistics also help readers understand a subject/topic.

5) Using Rhetorical Questions

- A rhetorical question cannot be answered to you but the reader might answer the question to himself/herself.
- A question which is posed without the expectation of an answer is called a "rhetorical question."

PUNCTUATION

QUOTATION MARKS

- Quotations marks ("") are a pair of punctuation marks used primarily to mark the beginning and end of a passage attributed to another and repeated word for word.
- They are also used to indicate meanings and to indicate the unusual or uncertain status of a word.
- Single quotation marks (') are used most frequently for quotes within quotes.
- Use quotation marks to cite something someone said exactly. Examples
 - "I'm coming right now," she said.
 - Kim told me, "Don't leave your shoes at the door. They will be stolen."
 - Harry told me not to forget my soccer jersey.
- When rephrasing what someone told you, no quotation marks are needed. Example,
She said she was coming then.
- If quoting others within a quote, both single and double quotation marks are used to set the two separate quotations off from each other.

APOSTROPHE

- An apostrophe (') is used to indicate the omission of a letter or letters from a word, the possessive case, or the plurals of lowercase letters.
- Examples of the apostrophe in use include:
 - Omission of letters from a word: Are you comin'.
 - Possessive case: Joel's house has been painted black.
 - Plural for lowercase letters: They were told to mind their p's and q's.
- The apostrophe has two different, but important uses in English: possession and contractions.

The contraction Apostrophe

The apostrophe is placed where the omitted letter would be in that case.

Type	Without contractions	Contractions
------	-----------------------------	--------------

Type	Without contractions	Contractions
NOT	is not, has not, had not, did not, would not, can not	isn't, hasn't, hadn't, didn't, wouldn't, can't
IS	she is, there is, he is, it is, Mary is, Jim is, Germany is, she's, there's, he's, it's, Mary's, Jim's, Germany's, who is	who's
AM	I am	I'm
WILL	I will, you will, she will, we will, they will	I'll, you'll, she'll, we'll, they'll
WOULD	I would, you would, he would, we would, they would	I'd, you'd, he'd, we'd, they'd
HAVE	I have, you have, we have, they have	I've, you've, we've, they've
ARE	you are, they are, we are	you're, they're, we're

The possessive apostrophe

In most cases you simply need to add 's' to a noun to show possession

Examples

- Boy's voice
- Teacher's students

HYPHEN

- A hyphen is used between the parts of a compound word or name or between the syllables of a word, especially when divided at the end of a line of text.
- Examples of this in use include:
 - Between a compound noun: father-in-law
 - Within a compound word: back - to - back
- In general, hyphens are used to join two words or parts of words together while avoiding confusion or vagueness.

Examples

- go-down
- up-to-date
- There are some cases where hyphens maintain written clarity such as where there are letter collisions, where a prefix is added, or in family relations. Many words that have been hyphenated in the past have since dropped the hyphen and become a single word (email, nowadays).

Examples

- co-operate
- post-colonial
- great-grandmother

➤ Hyphens are also used in numbers

Examples

- Thirty-six
- Three-fifths

➤ Use a hyphen when a number forms part of an adjectival compound

Examples

- The school allows a 30-minute break.
- Most of us were born in the tweentienth-century.

1. STUDY WRITING

(a) SUMMARIES

SUMMARY

- An excellent summary is a summary written to show that you have read and understood something.
- You will get assignments that ask you to read a certain material and summarize it.

How to produce a summary:

1. Read the material to be summarized and be sure you understand it.
2. Outline the major points.
3. Write a first draft of the summary without looking at the material.
4. Always use paraphrase when writing a summary.
5. Target your first draft for approximately 1/4 the length of the original.
6. Never put any of your own ideas, opinions, or interpretations into the summary. This means you have to be very careful of your word choice.
7. Write in prose – not point form.

(b) DESCRIPTIVE ESSAYS

- This type of essay requires the writer to describe something.
- The writer should be quite vivid in their description.
- The writer should also be observant.

Describing a person

- When you are describing a person, you are telling the reader something about him or her. The quality of your description will depend on your observation and on how well you can express yourself in writing.

Example:

Victor Kumasi

We hear about him a lot. He is always the first to arrive in the classroom. This has made him our class teacher's favourite. When it comes to running, I don't know what to say; he runs faster than most of the athletes we admire. The only surprising thing is that he never speaks English. Even at that he remains the most loved in the whole school.

Describing a place

In describing a place, you need to use your five senses. just consider :

- What you see
- What you hear
- How it smells
- The taste
- How it feels like

2. CREATIVE WRITING

IMAGINATIVE COMPOSITIONS

Elements of Imaginative Compositions

In order to write a good story, use these important elements:

a) Characters: Refers to those who act in the story. They should be people, animals or objects that think and talk.

b) Setting: Describes time and place of the story for example: classroom, lakeside, town etc.

c) Plot: Refers to the series of actions that the characters go through as they try to solve a problem. In the plot, we have the:

1. Introduction: This is usually short. It presents the character, the situation or the problem, and part of the setting.
2. Development: This simply shows how the situation affects the characters and what they do to try and solve the problem.
3. Conclusion: This shows the solution of a problem. It is usually short. It may lead to a happy, sad or surprise ending.

When writing a story, remember to organise the flow of your events so that the reader's interest is maintained throughout the story. The element of suspense should also be created and maintained so that the reader will want to find out what is most likely to happen in your story.

You can create suspense by:

1. Including mystery
2. Changing the scene
3. Creating unexpected events
4. Including dialogue
5. Giving surprise ending
6. Moving from one character to another

3. INSTITUTIONAL WRITING

(a) Business Letters

- Usually from one organization/company/institution to another, or between such and their customers and other external parties.
- A business letter is any letter with two addresses, salutation, RE, and ends with a signature, and whose contents are professional in nature.
- It is more formal than personal letters.
- You must have the formatting down.
- Some types of business letters are:
 - Sales letters
 - Order letters – sent by consumers or businesses to manufacturers, retailers or wholesalers to order goods and services. The contents include quantity, name, etc of the product.
 - Complaint letters – use a tone that will make your complaint be satisfied.
 - Inquiry letters. Written to elicit information from the recipient.
 - Letters of Recommendation. Usually written by previous employer describing the sender's relationship with and opinion of the job seeker.
 - Others include: cover letters, acknowledgment letters, letters of resignation, follow-up letters, and adjustment letters.

Business Letters Format

- There are two layouts of business letters: Block and Indented layouts.
- When you choose to use block layout, all the information is written flush left.
 - Provide your address first.
 - Then skip one line and provide the date.
 - Skip one more line and provide the inside address of the addressee.
 - Note that when using letterhead, there is no need of writing your address. Only begin with the date.
 - Skip yet another line and write salutation. This is followed by a colon. Comma is used for personal correspondence.

- Write "RE" and write the subject.
 - Write the body. Skip lines between the paragraphs.
 - After the body, write complementary close, followed by a comma, sign, then type your name and title(only if applicable)
- When you choose to use indented layout:
- Your address appears on the right.
 - Date on the right.
 - Addressee's address, salutation on the left.
 - Typing do not start from the flush left.
 - No skipping lines between paragraphs.
 - Type the closing and signature in the center.

Note: Block format looks professional.

Dear Ms Jane:

RE: RESIGNATION FROM KAMATO ACADEMY

I am writing to provide formal notice of my resignation from Kamato Academy. My last day will be 31st January this year.

I trust four weeks is sufficient notice for you to find a replacement for my position. I would be pleased to help train the person you choose to take my place before I finally leave.

Thank you for offering me the job for the past two years. My experience as a teacher, head of various departments and patron of clubs and societies here has been positive and I am confident that I will use most of the skills I have learnt at Kamato Academy in future.

If you have any concerns, please let me know. I will be more willing to listen to you.

All the best,

Dear Sir,

Reservation of Rooms for Motivational Camp

I am writing on behalf of the Scouts Club of Kipchoge Muslims School. We are organizing a two-day-one-night motivational camp and have selected your hotel as the venue for the camp. The tentative dates for the camp are 23 and 24 August 2016. We would like to know if you will be able to accommodate us for the period.

Altogether, there will be forty students and four teachers on this trip. We will need two rooms for the teachers (twin sharing). For the students we would need fourteen rooms only (twin sharing as well). Please include an extra bed in each room to accommodate a third person.

We plan to arrive at 2 o'clock in the afternoon of Friday 3 August. We hope you will be able to serve some light refreshments. We will begin our program at 4 p.m. We will require the use of a conference room that can accommodate 40 people. We would like a microphone, projector and screen, a stage and a rostrum. Since the students will be working in groups, we would like eight tables arranged in two rows. We also hope that water can be made available in the room at all times so that students can have a drink right there and do not have to leave the room too often.

Regarding meals, we expect to have dinner at 7 p.m., breakfast at 7 a.m., the next morning and lunch at 11 a.m., just prior to our departure. We hope to be able to check out by midday on Saturday 4 August.

We would like to know your rates for students, and whether you have a special rate for group bookings. Also, what are your charges for the use of the conference room and the equipment? Please let us know if payment can be made by credit card or cheque.

We look forward to hearing from you soon. Please contact us if you need us to furnish you with further details.

Thank you.

Yours faithfully,

(b) POSTERS

- A poster is any piece of printed paper designed to be attached to a vertical surface e.g. a wall.
- A poster is intended to convey message at the same time appeal to the audience.
- A poster can be professionally used for advertisements, announcements, or to share information.
- A poster can focus on topics like:
 - (i) Child labour
 - (ii) Drug abuse
 - (iii) Corruption
 - (iv) Prostitution
 - (v) Domestic violence
 - (vi) Road accident, etc.

How to Create Posters

- Find a good idea for a poster. You can focus on cars, sports, etc.
 - Create an image or picture with a clearly inspiration point. If for example, talking about child labour, one can draw a child working in the fields, and being whipped.
 - Balance between the picture and the writings.
 - Emphasize the most important information. You can write them in different ink, or underline them.
 - The picture/image and the writing should be within the borderline.

- Be concise.

Activity

Let the students choose any of the topics above and design their posters in groups. Ensure there is a balance between the picture and the words. After they finish, allow them pin their posters on the wall.

Exercise

The habit of shirking assignments in your class has become rampant. You don't like it and you want to design a poster to warn your classmates against it. Design that poster.

(c) ADVERTISEMENTS

- Advertising is how a company/individual encourages people to buy their products, services or ideas.
- An advertisement (short form: ad) is anything that draws excellent attention towards these things.
- Ads appear on television, as well as radio, newspapers, magazines and as billboards in streets and cities.
- They try to get people to buy their products, by showing them the good rather than bad of their products.
- First impression is very important and there is usually no second chance at making a good first impression.
- An advertisement should catch the attention within seconds – if it doesn't, then it is considered failed.
- It is crucial to showcase your product in a very clever way.

How to Create an Advertisement

- Grab the attention of the audience by coming up with a tagline that is catchy. You can consider using:
 - Humour
 - Thyme

- Puns
 - Metaphor
 - Alliteration, etc
- Type the name of the business.
- Have a picture to reinforce your message.
- Balance between the picture and the wordings.

Activity

Let the students design their own adverts. They can advertise things like;

- (a) New books
- (b) New brand of pen
- (c) Anything

4. PERSONAL WRITING

(a) PERSONAL JOURNALS

- A personal journal is a record of individual's impression of a given event, occurrence or a person.
- Record what strikes you the most.
- What you record could have happened to you or to others.

Contents of A Personal Journal

1. Date
 2. Day

ENTRY

Today was particularly my best in the month of February, in fact from January. Can you believe Tom, of all the form two students, has been appointed the new class prefect. This has marked the end of bad news and opened the door to fortunes. I will do all I can to improve that class!

I had never given it thought until I was told my name had been mentioned by the deputy principal. It was my friend, Huggies who told me it was me and not any other Tom. Of course I am the only Tom in that great class. I must express my happiness at this. A small, small class prefect in a big, big classroom.

My happiness cannot allow me write more than I have written, my dear journal. Let the rest be said tomorrow. Goodnight.

(b)SHOPPING LISTS

- A shopper needs to write a list of all the items to be purchased.
- Written before a shopping trip to a shop, grocery, or supermarket.
- Writing a shopping list will help cut down on money wastage and time for thinking on what to buy while at the shopping center.

Contents of A Shopping List

- A shopping list contains the following:
 1. Title. A title must have what the shopping is intended for and the words "shopping list".
 2. Budgeted amount. Write how much you have at hand to do shopping. Don't use more than what you have. Budget carefully. You can't also remain with a certain amount. If you are left with too much from what you were to use, it will also mean you don't know how to budget.
 3. Item category. Items are normally put under different categories. It is a good idea to group related items together for ease in shopping. Items are categorized as;
 - Snacks e.g. cake, chips, etc.
 - Toiletries e.g. soap, toothpaste, tissue papers, etc.
 - Foodstuff
 - Drinks/beverages
 - Electronics
 - Clothing
 - And others
 4. Item. Write items under the right category.
 5. Description. Write the type of item you want. Prices might also be different. If for example you want to buy juice, write the type you want, for instance, savanna, pineapple. Their prices vary.
 6. Quantity. Say how many or how much you need to buy. If a liquid use mililitres, litres etc. if solid, grams, kilograms, will do.

7. Price. The amount to be spent on each item is written in this column.
8. Total. Write the amount in total to spend. Never spend more than budgeted for.

➤ More creative individuals add to their shopping lists:

- Expected balance/change
- Where shopping to be done. For example: shopping to be done at Uchumi Supermarket.
- Who to do shopping, among other things.

Exercise

You are form two class prefect. Your class is throwing the end of the year class party. Before this happens, there is contribution by all the class members. If the total amount raised is sh. 9 000 which you are supposed to budget for, prepare the shopping list of the item you would buy.

5. SOCIAL WRITING

(a) INVITATIONS

- Sending invitations is the appropriate way to communicate to your guest what is it that you are celebrating and what the event is all about.
 - There are two types of invitations:
 - Informal invitations
 - Formal invitations
 - Invitations also take form of: invitation cards or invitation letters.
- (i) Invitation Cards
- They are designed to invite individuals to various ceremonies and parties.
 - When designing an invitation card remember to :
 - Provide the name of the host for the party.
 - Extend the invitation by choosing appropriate formal wording, such as, "request your presence" or less formal wording, such as "totally invites you".
 - Include honorifics (Dr./Mr./Ms/ etc.) before the guest's name especially if formal.
 - Answer the question "what?" Tell the guest what the event is for. Is it for birthday party, wedding party, birth of a new baby, fundraising etc. if, for example, it is a birthday party ensure you tell them who is it for and age the person is celebrating. By the same token, if it is graduation, tell them who it is for and mention the education milestone they completed. The purpose of the event is stated clearly.
 - Be clear about the date and time of the event. Day of the week should also be included. Example Saturday, 16th May 2016 at 4.00 pm.
 - Be clear on the venue. Tell them where the party will be held. If the party is held off-site (not where is known to all), you can even give directions.
 - Write "RSVP". Under this, write the name of the people to be contacted and their contact details. You can write the phone number to allow them contact you so as to inform you ahead of time whether or not they will be attending. RSVP is French abbreviation for "rezpondez sil'vous plait" which simply means "please respond".
 - Give instructions to your recipients on for example, how to dress, or bring something, if to bring another guest, or any other thing to do.
 - You can also include the teaser. Include something that will drive them to the party even before the actual day. You can mention things like drinks, dance, etc. These make them looking towards attending the party.

- Include simple but a picture that ties with the party. You can have a picture of a cake if birthday party.

(ii) INVITATION LETTERS

- An invitation letter, normally business, is written to invite people to various events, such as, seminars, conferences, and many other functions.
- It takes the format of other business letters.
- In an invitation letter one should include the details required. Only the pertinent information regarding the event should be included.
- They are written to invite:
 - A resource person to school
 - Teachers, students, etc to seminars, conferences, drama festivals, etc

Elements of Invitation Letters

An invitation letter will include things like:

- Brief description of the institution/ organization. Let the recipient know what you do and to know whether you have the right to hold such an event.
- Include all the pertinent information.

RE: INVITATION TO GIVE A TALK ON DRUG ABUSE

On behalf of Environmental Club, Jehova Jire School, it is my pleasure to extend the invitation to our school parents' day in the school refectory on Friday, 6th March, 2016 at 9.00 am. You are invited to give a talk on drug abuse.

Jehova School is one of the three schools in Bethlehem in which students have continued to abuse drugs. However, most of them are ready to respond to what they are told on dangers of hard drugs. Environmental club has been given the power to curb the use of such drugs.

I do hope you will be able to confirm your attendance to this invitation. We look forward to your presence at this big day.

Yours sincerely,

(a) TELEPHONE MESSAGES

- People who work in offices often answer phones for others especially in their absence.
- When you answer such calls, you need to take the messages for them.
- The telephone messages have the following elements:
 - (i) Name of the person the caller wanted to talk to.
 - (ii) The name of the caller.
 - (iii) Date and time of the call.
 - (iv) Telephone number of the caller.
 - (v) Details of the message. Here you write something like: She called to ask whether you will attend the fundraising ceremony at Mizingo Hotel.

(c) LETTERS OF APOLOGY

- We all make mistakes from time to time. When that happens, it is worthwhile that the situation be mended early.
- One way to mend the situation is by writing a letter apologizing for the wrong done.
- A letter of apology is written in order to:
 - Lay out your mistakes clearly;
 - Ask for forgiveness;
 - Exhibit regret;
 - Provide assurances for change; and
 - Allow for building of relationships.
- When writing a letter of apology:
 - Begin the letter by saying you are apologizing.
 - Admit you were wrong and accept the responsibility.
 - Offer a way you can help resolve the situation.
 - Reassure the person that you will do your best to prevent the problem from occurring again.
 - Tell the person you are looking forward to rebuilding the damaged relationship.
 - Apologize again to close the letter.
 - Be sincere.

Dear Mr. Kipchoge:

RE: APOLOGY FOR SPEAKING IN MOTHER TONGUE

I am sorry for breaking one of the school rules.

I knew that speaking in mother tongue is prohibited at school, when I spoke it. I am deeply sorry for acting as though I am above the rules everyone should follow. It was impolite to both you and the other teachers.

I promise to obey all the school rules now that I have learnt that no one is above the school rules. It was inappropriate of me to speak the language not acceptable at school. I know that punishment meted on me is completely deserved.

Once again, I am sorry for my stupid behavior. I will from now on speak in the two official languages.

I hope our differences have been put behind us and that our relationship remains undamaged.

Yours Sincerely,
